

Historic Landscapes Assembly

An Historic Landscape
Project Discussion and Networking Day

28th November 2017
10am-5.30pm

With evening lecture and book-signing, 5.45-8.00pm

The Dickens Room, Birmingham and
Midland Institute, Margaret Street,
Birmingham, B3 3BS

The second annual, national networking forum from the Gardens Trust, attracting delegates from across the heritage and landscape sector, with County Gardens Trusts right at its heart.

Aim: An opportunity for all those with a stake in historic designed landscapes and their conservation to meet and discuss current issues. Speakers will include representatives from the Gardens Trust, Historic England, Natural England and Celebrating Repton 2018, and we will also be treated to case studies from County Gardens Trusts. Thirty years after the 'Great Storm', we'll be looking at its effects, both negative and positive, on historic parks and gardens. Discussion will include 'Capability' Brown landscapes at risk; the place of research in conservation; and ways to drive our sector's renewed determination to be a combined force for good.

Background: Last year's inaugural Assembly, in London, was born out of the 2015 merger of the Association of Gardens Trusts and the Garden History Society, to form the Gardens Trust. This fresh organisation restated its role as a key conservation organisation working to protect designed landscapes, with the publication of 'The Planning System and the Protection of Historic Parks and Gardens: Guidance for Local Planning Authorities'. This leaflet makes clear that successful conservation in these times of stretched resources will rely on the sharing of skills and information, and one of the Trust's most vital roles is to facilitate the dissemination of up-to-date research and policy, helping national bodies, local authorities and heritage volunteers to share their knowledge and expertise so that they may more effectively protect the landscapes we love. This year's Assembly will build upon the success of the inaugural event, again bringing together those working for the protection of historic designed landscapes, whether as staff or volunteers, to discuss key issues demanding our collective attention.

Programme to include:

- The Legacy of the Great Storm, Dominic Cole, President of the Gardens Trust
- Historic England Agenda 2017, Jenifer White, National Landscape Adviser, Historic England
- Launch of the 'Capability' Brown At Risk Report, David Lambert, Trustee, The Gardens Trust
- Case Studies from County Gardens Trusts
- An additional evening talk and book signing.
